#plirding

You may have heard someone say something to the effect of, "If every person in the world picked up one piece of trash a day, there would be no more litter!" Whether or not that statement is accurate, it's obvious that the more people who PLIRD, the better. Help spread the word on social media! Take photos or videos of yourself or your group plirding and use the hashtag #plirding.