Designate a litter pocket

After reading all of these tips, remember that picking up litter doesn't require special equipment, planned events, or huge efforts. It can be as simple as designating one of the water bottle pockets of your backpack to use for trash.

This strategy means that you won't have to carry a separate trash bag, enabling you to keep your binoculars at the ready for amazing, unexpected nature and wildlife moments ... hands-free PLIRDING!